NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR:

How has your day been? Have you had any pseudo-intellectual conversations with a manure salesman? How about your palm read by the neighbor down the street who happens to also have, in her front yard a dwarf-sized statue of her husband....for the sake of spite....

Maybe all you've had to deal with is a car which refuses to start --- or stop --- when it's supposed to.....or perhaps children who refuse to wake up.....or go to sleep ----- when they're suppose to.

Whatever the case, I hope you will, as we all have, enjoy the show and just maybe see the humor your life has to offer. God's blessings to you all
